The Fort Smith Regional Art Museum (RAM) continues the mission begun in 1948 by citizens who wanted to provide free access to art exhibitions and classes to the community.

RAM's home is a 16,000-sq.-ft. mid-century modern building at the crest of downtown Fort Smith, donated by Arvest Bank in 2009. In addition to the increased space from our former historic home location, RAM's mission enlarged: From an art center/gallery, RAM transitioned to a regional art museum, with activities of collecting and preserving important works of art while educating the public on arts and culture.

In 2018, RAM added a Student Gallery Sponsored by Arvest Foundation that has resulted in outstanding community pride in solo and group exhibitions by students.

In 2019, the Dr. William E. Knight Porcelain Gallery opened, featuring Arkansas' largest private collection of the extolled Boehm porcelain.

The year 2021 brought the addition of the Sandi and Sandy Sanders Gallery for the Permanent Collection. This has enabled the museum to begin sharing the more than 500 works of art collected since 1960 through gifts or purchase.

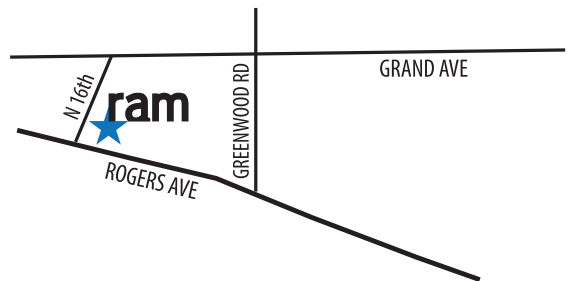

In 2023, RAM turned 75! With your support, your art museum is headed onward and upward.
